

8 PLAYS

FOR CREATING A SPACE
WHERE YOU LOVE TO SEW

NICKI HIBBITS

Hello!

As a retired elementary school teacher and a current online small business owner who is also a mom, wife, daughter, sister, and aunt, I know what it's like to have a life full of family and work responsibilities leaving little time to spend on yourself.

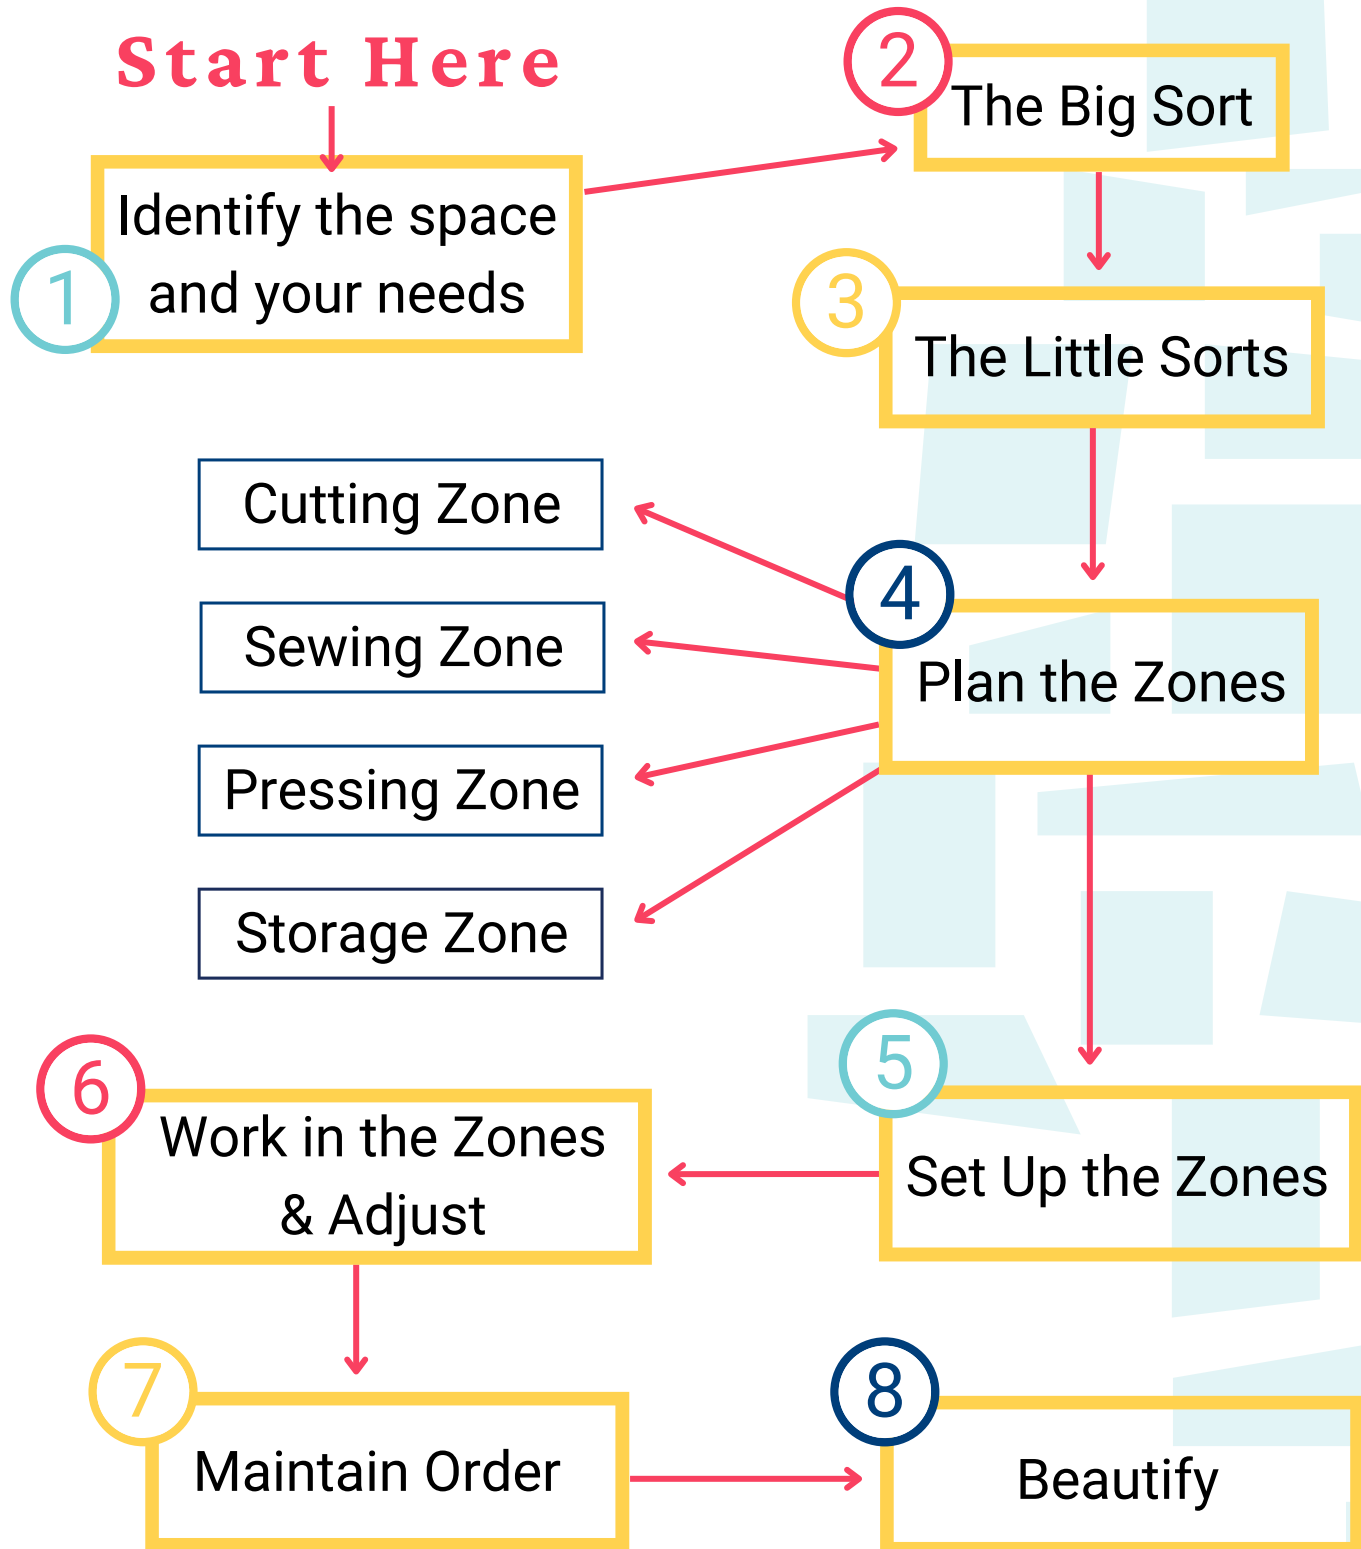

For much of my adult life, I thought more about sewing than actually doing it. It wasn't until I actually made time to sew that I realized how important it is to do something you love on a regular basis. But sewing can be hard if your space is always a mess.

I want to help you plan, set up, and organize your sewing space in order to maximize the sewing time you have.

Whether your sewing space is a disorganized cluttered mess or you've organized your stash but hate to sew in your space, I will teach you the steps I use to declutter, set up, and organize my sewing space and keep it that way.

💖
Nicki

The Plays - an Overview

notes

A series of horizontal grey lines for taking notes, spanning the width of the page.

notes

Lined writing area with horizontal grey lines and light blue abstract shapes on the right side.