Scrap Quilts

By Robin Harris (2026)

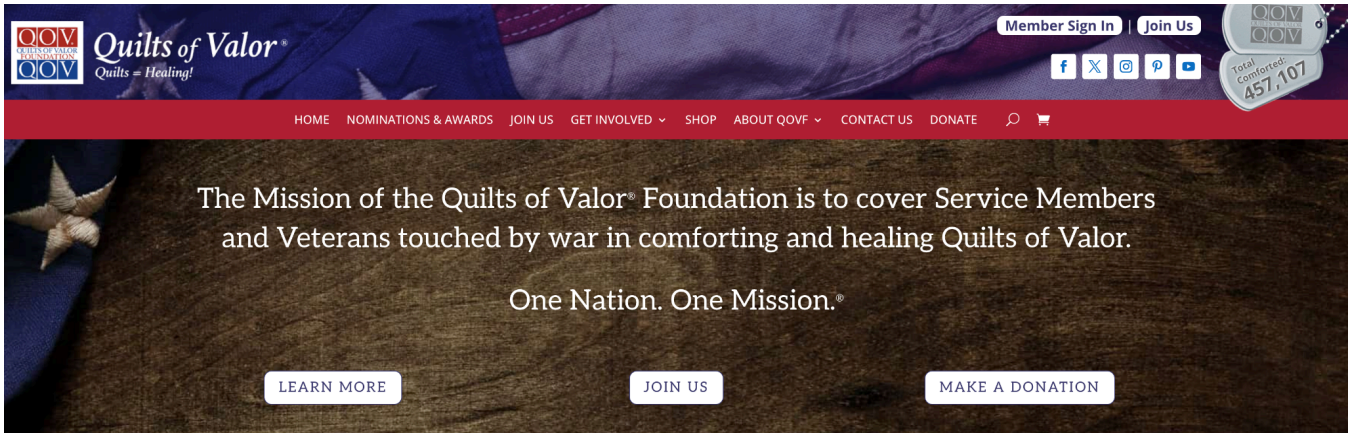

There are many ways and levels to get involved with the Quilts of Valor® Foundation (QOVF.org)

I started out by joining a local group. My quilting buddy Betty and I made sure the group had tops for the longarmer. We helped the group leader prepare block kits for the annual sew day in February, and other times during the year. We sewed at monthly meetings. The shop sold and our leader moved, Betty and I decided to form our own group. That was 7 years ago, and here we are. Our group has about 20 members, it varies. I send out a monthly newsy letter. Usually 5-8 sewers show up twice a month on sewing days. We (I) plan the agenda and bring materials. Betty and I used to do all the work, now that the group has grown in numbers and experience, we share jobs, e. g. one person logs tops and cuts batting, one person makes our signature backs, we all wash fabric and make block kits, etc.

All about the Website:
First view is of the dog tags with a number of quilts that have been awarded since the foundation started in 2003. Let's start with the simplest and move from there. I would peruse the items along the Red ribbon on the website at: QOVF.org. You can nominate a veteran, join as an individual member, join a group near you, sign up to longarm quilts, donate $$$, or become a group leader like I did.

If, like me, you want to start your own group, there are things to consider. Just for starters, you need two to become a group. One of the two is the designated leader and must fill out a financial responsibility form, pay $75.00 a year, take training, work with a district and state coordinator, and take on leadership responsibilities of your group.
